ARREST COMING SOON IN SZABO MYSTERY; HINT ABOUT POISON

Doctors After an Autopsy Order Analysis of Parts of the Body of Woman Who Lost Life in Greenwood Lake.

OFFICIALS HURRY AWAY TO SECURE A WARRANT

Lawyer Gibson in His Office Again Asserts He Is Innocent of Any Wrong-Doing in the Case

That immediate steps will be taken to make an arrest on some charge growing out of the drowning of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo (client of Lawyer Barton W. Gibson) in Greenwood Lake on July 16 last, was stated this afternoon by County Medical Officer King of Hudson County after an autopsy had been performed on the Austrian woman's body in Hughes's morgue, Jersey City.

The autopsy, said Dr. King, indicated that a chemical and microscopic examination would corroborate the suspicion that led District Attorney Rogers of Orange County to order Mrs. Szabo's body disinterred from the New York Bay Cemetery. Four physicians had assisted in the autopsy and all agreed that the result of their examinations called for immediate action.

Dr. King was asked if the chemical examinations would be made for the purpose of establishing that Mrs. Szabo was poisoned before her attorney took her out rowing in Greenwood Lake. He refused to answer this question, but added that he could state a positive belief that a representative of the Sheriff of Orange County would make an arrest.

LAWYER GIBSON GETS NEWS ABOUT THE AUTOPSY.

When word was carried in to Lawyer Gibson in his office on the eleventh floor of No. 15 Liberty street that the autopsy had furnished the authorities with evidence upon which a warrant of arrest would be immediately sought he started up from his chair.

"Impossible! Impossible!" he cried. "I am innocent. I will not attempt to leave the building. I will submit to anything an unkind fate may have in store for me. It will prove only a temporary annoyance. I am prepared to stand and can prove my innocence."

The attorney soon recovered from his agitation, calmly lighted a cigar and asked his interviewers from his office. By this time crowds of men and boys collected in the corridors of the building. Several Pinkerton men mingled in the crowd and kept watch on the door of Gibson's suite. The news in the report of the autopsy in Jersey City spread rapidly through the district, and even before the news was carried to Lawyer Gibson the lobby of the building was jammed with an excited throng.

Not a word came from the autopsy room for three hours, when Dr. George King, County Physician of Hudson County, came out and said: "We have made certain discoveries which will necessitate microscopic and chemical analyses before we can state positive-

MEXICAN TROOPS TO PASS THROUGH U. S. TERRITORY

Washington Grants Request of Madero Government to Reach Border Towns in Peril.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Permission for 1,200 Mexican Federal troops to pass through the United States from El Paso into Chihuahua and Sonora, to attack the fleeing rebels, was today granted to the Madero Government by the State Department. The arms of the troops will be carried as baggage. When the movement is to begin is not known.

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 10.—At the request of the State Department, Gov. Hunt granted permission today for Mexican troops to use Arizona territory in going to the relief of towns in Sonora, which are harassed by rebels. The Governor expressed strong opposition to intervention by the United States in Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10.—The Mexican Senate at a secret session last night granted the request of President Madero for authorization to ask the United States Government to permit the transportation of troops through American territory. It is planned to send a column of troops via El Paso, Tex., and Douglas, Ariz., into the State of Sonora, where several bands of rebels are operating.

Government officials continue to regard as absurd the reports that the United States Government is seriously considering intervention in Mexico. It was declared at the national palace today that conditions are steadily growing better instead of worse, and that it is a question of only a short time before peace will be restored. In the meantime every effort will be made, it was announced, to protect foreigners and their property.

Manuel Becanourt, an American citizen, according to the story brought here today, was fatally wounded by rebels when they attacked Altamira, near Tuxtepec, Guerrero, last Saturday. Becanourt is said to have been a native of Texas and manager of a mining property. He was wounded while he and others resisted an attack on the property by the rebels.

HAYES TRIAL ENDS; DEPUTY M'KAY DELAYS DECISION

Brother Inspectors All Testify Against Deposed Official as to Orders.

"HONEST DAN" DEFENDS.

Raider Costigan and Sergeants of Tenderloin Contradict Waldo's Testimony.

The trial of deposed Police Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes for "making a false official statement" came to its end at 2:30 this afternoon, after the inspectors of the department, one after another, had taken the stand in behalf of their Commissioner and against their former fellow-official. With the exception of Inspector Grant, who was absent, the inspectors testified they never had received orders not to enter disorderly houses to procure evidence.

When the last of the inspectors had descended, re-faced, from the stand, Commissioner Waldo closed his case. Hayes had no more witnesses to offer and both sides agreed to discontinue with summing up. Deputy Commissioner McKay, sitting as judge, reserved decision.

Lieut. "Honest Dan" Costigan of the Central Office Squad and Capt. William Day of the West Forty-seventh street police station both flatly contradicted the testimony of Commissioner Waldo when they were called to the witness stand.

Lieut. Costigan denied that he ever knew his business was to "check up" on the activity of the inspectors in the suppression of disorderly houses, or that he had ever received orders to do so from the Commissioner. Waldo on the stand had attested the fact that Costigan and other heads of the Central Office squad had made arrests in Hayes's district in proof of his assertion that such was the business of Costigan and his confederates.

Costigan also declared emphatically that his orders did not permit him to enter a disorderly house except on specific complaint forwarded him by Commissioner Waldo.

DAY TELLS OF INQUIRY INTO COMPLAINTS AFTER RAIDS.

Capt. Day refuted the testimony given last week by the Commissioner in one important detail. Waldo had said that when a complaint was brought to his ears that raids had been made on three apartment houses in Hayes's district—the Hobbs, the Marlborough and the Gotham—"for the sake of graft," he had questioned Hayes about them, was satisfied and had made no further investigation.

Capt. Day testified that, following these raids, Commissioner Waldo had asked him to deliver to Headquarters the letters from Father Delaney and Father Daly complaining of the three houses in question, and had asked him questions concerning the raids.

Three sergeants in Hayes's old district—Ray, Wall and Higgins—added weight to Hayes's contention that he kept hands off the disorderly houses at Waldo's orders by testifying that Hayes ordered them not to enter such houses, saying that such were Waldo's orders.

Just before Assistant Corporation Counsel Terence Farley completed his examination of Hayes, the deposed inspector unexpectedly put a match to a bomb. Hayes, stolid, unmoved, had been giving blunt, unconsidered answers to the questions fired at him for nearly an hour. Then came this one from Mr. Farley:

"When you were summoned before

MAYOR DAZES ALDERMANIC PROBERS; "YOU'RE INVESTIGATING ME," HE SAYS

(Specially Photographed for The Evening World To-Day by a Staff Photographer.)

BRIDGIE WEBBER'S GAMBLING HOUSE IS CLOSED AGAIN

Dispossess Warrant Is Issued Against Louis Brown, Legal Tenant of Property.

A warrant of dispossess against Louis Brown, the tenant in whose name "Bridgie" Webber's gambling house at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue was rented, was issued today in the Ninth District Municipal Court at Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue.

Bond and Babson, counsel for the State Realty Company, owners of the property, have taken the necessary steps for the immediate service of the warrant.

No opposition to the proceedings in court was offered by Brown's attorneys. Policemen attached to the staff of Inspector Dwyer were on hand prepared to testify to the character of the business conducted by Webber, but their testimony was not needed.

The active aid of the police in pushing a dispossess proceeding against a tenant accused of maintaining a disorderly place is unusual. Bond and Babson state that in numerous previous proceedings they have failed to secure the co-operation of the police in dispossess actions which had been brought upon police notice to landlords that their premises were being used for illegal purposes.

After serving the preliminary notices in the ejectment proceedings against Webber's place, Bond and Babson wrote to Commissioner Waldo and Inspector Dwyer asking their aid. The response to the communications was prompt and effective.

Webber's gambling house, where the murderers of Herman Rosenthal assembled, was closed only a short time after the killing. The man known as "Brown" responded the place was conducting it as a poker room when it was raided by Inspector Dwyer.

DIDN'T GET A CHANCE TO SHOOT DETECTIVE.

Chicago Man Arrested by Policeman Whose Life He Threatened.

A tip came by wire from the Chicago police last night to Inspector Faust that Fred Schultz, a criminal of the Windy City, had left for New York with a 32-calibre revolver and an announced determination to shoot Detective Paul Martin of the West Seventeenth street station.

Martin had picked him up in this city last spring on the request of the Chicago police, who wanted him on a robbery charge. "Go out and get that man before he gets you," was the order of Inspector Faust to Detective Martin. Martin did so. He picked up the Chicago man at Sixth avenue and Twenty-fourth street late this afternoon. Sure enough a big revolver was nesting in Schultz's back pocket. Schultz was locked up.

TWO MORE ARMY AVIATORS KILLED; FIVE WITHIN WEEK

Aeroplane Carrying British Officers Falls Like a Stone From the Clouds.

OXFORD, England, Sept. 10.—Another double aviation fatality, the second within a week, occurred early today to members of the army flying corps when Lieut. C. A. Hettington and Lieut. E. Hotchkiss, both of whom had just been given a commission on probation, were killed while flying past Wolvercote.

On last Friday two army aviators were killed in England and one in Bavaria. These with the two who met death today make a total of five in five days.

The machine in which today's victims were manoeuvring had passed over Oxford and had reached a point just outside Wolvercote when the motor appeared to stop and the aeroplane fell like a stone to the ground from a height of 500 feet. One account of the accident says that an explosion occurred while the machine was in the air.

The body of one of the officers was found in the river and the other was picked up in a field. Both of the aviators had been instantly killed. The officers were young men who only recently had received their flying certificates. A big mimic battle in the army manoeuvres, in which a number of aviators were killed, was taking part, commenced yesterday, and the newspapers this morning refer in glowing terms to the success of the aviation corps.

Cows Thrive on Cactus.
SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 10.—Two cows put on a rigid diet of spineless cactus here a week ago, with the object of exhibiting them at the State fair, are attracting the interest of dairy men. On the third day their milk output had increased five pounds, on the fourth day seven pounds, and on the fifth day nine pounds. Two hogs also fed solely upon the spineless cactus are said to be thriving.

BUCKNER STRIKES A SNAG IN GENERAL QUESTIONS

"I Don't Run the Police; Waldo Does," Says Gaynor; "He's as Honest as Fossdick."

Mayor Gaynor, in his usual abrupt way of doing things, suddenly appeared before the Aldermanic Investigating Committee at a few minutes after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Mayor was sarcastic at the start. He asked for ice water and suggested that it be used by the members of the committee. Then he settled himself in the chair reserved for witnesses.

It was plain that he was primed chock full of dynamite, and as Mr. Buckner, counsel for the committee proceeded with his questions, there were frequent sharp and violent explosions which came in the form of forcible and snappy replies.

The Mayor vigorously defended Waldo. He regretted that the Commissioner had been deceived by a subordinate who "once had been a good policeman."

His Honor said that Waldo and not he ran the Police Department and ran it without the influence of politicians. "No Sam Koenig or Charley Murphy can influence Waldo," said he.

Then the Mayor gave his views on excise and the social evil. He reiterated on those subjects much that he has said in letters and public speeches. The gist of his remarks was that the more freedom policemen are allowed in procuring evidence against saloons and disorderly houses the more opportunities they have for graft.

Emory Buckner, counsel for the committee, attempted to pin the Mayor down to specific information as to his knowledge of the betterment of conditions in the city in respect of excise and the social evil. The Mayor gave exhaustive answers and much information, but he didn't give what the lawyer was trying to get.

It was the general opinion that the Mayor came out of the examination with flying colors from the standpoint of making good on his own position.

Mr. Buckner treated the Mayor with the utmost respect. Not a member of the committee ventured to ask the Mayor a question. After His Honor got warmed up he carried things along about as he wanted them to be carried and took a fling occasionally at the rag tag newspapers and editors. He was not afraid to express his views, but he refused to give the committee any advice.

Mr. Buckner, counsel to the committee, in addressing the Mayor, said: "The committee is desirous of obtaining some information concerning the administration policy of the Mayor in relation to the Police Department. In order to facilitate the inquiry we would like to know in a general way what method the Mayor has employed during his administration of keeping in touch with the administration of the Police Department."

Mayor Gaynor said nothing. Then Mr. Buckner plunged into his questioning and soon encountered a snag. Mayor Gaynor refused to answer questions that did not suit him. He would not reply to inquiries as to what he thought or surmised and he was not voluminous in his statements as to what he has done.

HE KEPT TRACK OF POLICE IN SEVERAL WAYS.
Mayor Gaynor in answer to questions said he kept track of the Police Department through letters, reports and oral reports from the Commissioner. The records were open, he said, to the committee or anybody else. He knew of no other way of keeping track of things than through reports from or conversation with the Commissioner.

More questions made the Mayor testy. They were of a general character. "I am here to give facts and information," said the Mayor. "I understand you had no way of getting information about the Police Department except by conversations and an occasional letter," said Mr. Buckner.

"If you understand this way say so," replied the Mayor. "I don't say so." The Mayor became angry and declared he knew nothing about it. "Don't you run the Police Department?" he was asked. "Certainly not!" Mayor Gaynor replied.
